Subject: Job Opportunity in APRIL – Remote Sensing Manager

Dear GRSS Members,

Asia Pacific Resources International Limited (APRIL) is looking for a full time Remote Sensing Manager to be stationed in Pangkalan Kerinci, Riau Province, Indonesia. This is a permanent position.

Here at APRIL, our common purpose is to improve lives by developing resources sustainably. Our people are crucial in helping us realize our vision to be one of the largest, best managed and sustainable resource-based group, creating value for the Community, Country, Climate, Customer and the Company. Hence, in the effort of realizing our vision, finding highly qualified candidates to strengthen our forestry team is a must.

This position will work at the interface between technical and managerial expertise, with a primary role to enhance forest plantation health monitoring system and to apply remote sensing techniques to various forestry businesses to ensure land security through remote sensing technology. Incumbent shall process and analyze imagery data and be able to communicate clearly the objective of remote sensing for sustainable forest management between departments and apply outcome to the operations. As a leader, incumbent should be able to manage the staffs and technicians, supervise their works while also developing them. Incumbent is expected to work together with operations line managers, such as plantation and harvesting, to understand their needs and challenges, and give corrective actions based on research results and best available knowledge.

To be successful in this role, candidates should have a minimum of Master degree in forestry, geography, or other related field of expertise. Ideally, candidates have at least 10 years of solid remote sensing and GIS working experience, as well as in a managerial role for the past 3 years. The understanding of latest imagery technologies/techniques will be crucial, such as and not limited to Envi, Globalmapper, LiDAR, ArcView, PX4D, Phyton or R scripting for spatial analysis, et cetera. Familiarity with pulpwood plantation or pulp and paper industry will be an added value for the candidates.

Interested candidates should submit a full resume in English to Ivan Reinaldo Tanuwijaya (ivan_tanuwijaya@aprilasia.com), APRIL Talent Acquisition, by the 30 April 2020, but the search will continue until the ideal candidates are found. Feel free to contact us even if only for initial enquiry.

Sincerely,

Ivan Reinaldo Tanuwijaya
